THE CREATION ORDINANCES TEACHER'S GUIDE

BY

J.N. SOMMERVILLE

The purpose of this guide is to lay the ground work for comparing moral laws to the physical laws of the first seven days:

http://wisdoms-house.com/G&T/V&V/Spoken\_Written\_and\_Living\_Word.pdf

In his book toward "Towards Old Testament Ethics", Dr Walter C. Kaiser Jr. postulated that there is a relationship between the moral laws and the physical laws of the first seven days, called "Creation Ordinances":

Creation Ordinances

"One final basis for the ethical decision comes from the work of God, the 'creation ordinances.' These ordinances reflect the work of God in creation and depict 'the constitution of things' as they were intended to be from the Creator's hand. They cover and regulate the whole gamut of life" bearing children, superintending the earth as a responsible steward before and under God, responsibly ruling the creatures of all creation, finding fulfillment and satisfaction in work labor, resting on the Sabbath, and enjoying marriage as a gift from above.

The importance of creation theology for the Wisdom Books has been one of the great insights of contemporary biblical theology. What needs to be done now is for someone to relate that creation emphasis in the Wisdom Books to its ethical and moral themes. Moreover, the link between creation ordinances and the matters of marriage, human sexuality, duties to parents, duties to superiors and underlings, property, work, life, the lower created forms, and the like must now be developed in the future studies. To do this, however one must assume that an 'informing ethic' has continued in the progress of revelation and that the presumption in favor of the unity of Old Testament ethics is a better working hypothesis than a presumption for its diversity and disunity."

Walter C. Kaiser Jr. "Toward Old Testament Ethics" P 31

The emphasis of the ensuing pages is upon the moral truth contained in the Scriptures. Jesus said that if we continue in his word we will know the truth (Jn 8:32). This truth will set us free from the bondage Darwinian Naturalism (men's traditions) that has invaded this modern era and has caused blindness throughout.

1John 1:1 merges Genesis, Deuteronomy, and St John together to define what is termed by Dr Kaiser as "Creation Ordinances". They are picture of the character and person of the Spoken Word, Written Word, and Living Word, the Creator, Christ.

The Creation Ordinances Teacher's Guide

"That which was from the beginning ("Spoken Word"...let there be light, Gen 1:3) which we have heard ("Written Word"...Hear O Israel, Deut 6:4), which we have seen with our eyes, which we looked upon and have touched with our hands ("Living Word"...the Word became Flesh, John 1:14), concerning the word of life-- the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and testify to it and proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and was made manifest to us-- " (1Jn 1:1-2)

Jesus is described in the gospel of John as the literal Word of God. He is also called the Light that shineth in darkness (John 5:5). Ninety-two percent of John's Gospel differs from the other three. John's Gospel contrasts Jesus as the moral opposite of man. Jesus is the Light (Jn1:4,1Jn1:5) and mankind is the darkness (Jn1:8, 1Jn1:10). Our sin comes from within, not from without (Mark 7:1-23). In this guide, our goal is to demonstrate word of God is summarized in the Ten Commandments as both moral truth and grace.

The following pages describe how the Seven Vices and Seven Virtues (Double -Sided Morals) are derived from the Ten Commandments. The Seven Vices and Seven Virtues are moral opposites, just as light contrasts darkness.

The scriptures encourage us to have our senses exercised to discern between good and evil:

"About this we have much to say, and it is hard to explain, since you have become dull of hearing. For though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you again the basic principles of the oracles of God. You need milk, not solid food, for everyone who lives on milk is unskilled in the word of righteousness, since he is a child. But solid food is for the mature, for those who have their powers of discernment trained by constant practice to distinguish good from evil." (Heb 5:11-14)

In his book "Toward Old Testament Ethics", Dr Walter Kaiser notes that the Ten Commandments (Decalogue) can be separated into positive laws and negative laws. In this text, he coins the phrase "double-sided morals":

"...(2) Universal moral truths often must be understood comparatively even though they are not cast in that form. Thus God "desired mercy and not sacrifice" (Hosea 6:6, Matt 9:13, 12:7) yet the sacrificial system was part of His revelation as well. This, then, must be understood in terms of priorities and by saying, "this first and then that" (cf. 1Sam 15:22, Ps 51:17,19, Jer 7:22-23).

(3) Negative moral principles include affirmatives and affirmatives include negatives so that when any sin is forbidden, the opposite duty is urged upon us and when duty is encouraged, its opposite sin is forbidden. So, Deuteronomy 6:13 commands us to serve God, we are thereby forbidden to serve any other god- without the text explicitly forbidding it. Likewise, when we are commanded to honor our parents (Exodus 20:12), we are forbidden to curse them. Stealing is prohibited (Exodus. 20:15), but diligence in our job and whole tenor of life is therefore set forth."

Interpretation of the Decalogue

"The interpretation of the Decalogue is not especially difficult, but there are a few observations that should be borne in mind. They include:

- 1) The moral law has a loving spirit in its prologue as well as in the main body of its commands. A course of action ought to be taken because it best reflects the character, nature, and will of God.
- 2) The Decalogue could have been stated positively throughout as well as negatively, for moral law is always double-sided. Every moral act is at the same time also a refraining from a contrary mode of action that could have been taken.
- 3) Merely omitting or refraining from doing a forbidden thing is not moral at all, otherwise a command could be fulfilled by sheer inactivity, which in the moral realm is just another name for death.
- 4) Consequently, when an evil is forbidden in one of the commands, its opposite good must be practiced before one can be called obedient.

The Creation Ordinances Teacher's Guide

- 5) To reject virtue is to choose vice, thus the absence of positive moral action has the force of rejecting that value or virtue.
- 6) A command is never fulfilled either by the mere refraining to engage in an act (e.g. murdering) or by a single act of positive aid. Therefore we will not only refrain from injuring our neighbor, but we will do all that is in our power to contribute to the life and the well-being of our neighbor.
- 7) The command speaks not only to acts attitudes, but to any and all incentives, enticements, or pressures that lead up to a thing forbidden.
- 8) Since it is easier to state in fewer words a command in the negative form, and since that negative form strives to meet the strong current of evil in the human heart, most of the Decalogue takes this form. But our freedom in grace is so large that it would be difficult to give a set of moral prescriptions in the positive form with the scope and succinctness with which the Decalogue is presently cast.”
Quotation from Walter C. Kaiser Jr. , “Toward Old Testament Ethics, pages 83,84

Our first objective is to explicitly demonstrate how the Decalogue can be separated into moral opposites in four steps.

- 1:List all Ten Commandments. (Ex 20, Deut 5)
2. Create a list with two columns. In the first column , list the commands that are negative (ie God said not to do). In the second column, list the commands that are positive ( Things God said to do) .
3. Add to your list in the row where a negative or positive commands occurs, the opposite action that is implied by the command. For example, we are to obey our parents; we are not to rebel against them (Eph 6:1-2). We are to not to steal. Instead, we are to work with our hands (be diligent), Eph 4:28; We are not to lie to one another , instead we are to speak the truth . Eph 4:25
4. Write a one word summary of the moral opposites. For example, do not steal is summarized as theft; working with hands is summarized as diligence.

We will show how to find an amplified description of the commandments in Deuteronomy. Finally, we will show how John's Gospel compares these moral laws to the physical laws of the first seven days.

Step 1: List all Ten Commandments (Ex 20, Deut 5)

1. The Ten Commandments are principles to be applied for all time.

“...there came one, running and knelt to him and asked him, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?... Jesus said to him... Thou knowest the commandments, do not commit adultery, do not kill, do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honor thy father and mother. Mark 10:17-19, Luke 18:18-20

The Creation Ordinances Teacher's Guide

false witness, and thou shalt not covet and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying , namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Romans 13:9

2. The Ten Commandments may be summarized as our duty to God and our duty to man.

“One of the scribes ...asked him, Which is the first commandment of all? Jesus answered him, The first commandment of all is Hear O Israel ; The Lord our God is one Lord: and thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart , and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment and the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these”. Mark 12:28-29, Luke 10:27-28, Matt. 22:35-37, Deut 6:4, Rom 13:9

3. The Mosaic Law was designed to teach the principles of the Ten Commandments.

“...for I had not known lust , except the law had said , thou shalt not covet .”Rom. 7:7,
“The law was our schoolmaster to bring us to Christ...” Gal 3:24.

4. The principles of the Ten Commandments are sequentially explained in the book of Deuteronomy starting with verse 6:4.

The divisions between the Commandments do not follow the chapter breaks. See summary in table below. Also see “Toward Old Testament Ethics, Dr Walter C. Kaiser Jr.” Chap 8, The Law of Deuteronomy

5. The Abrahamic Covenant (faith) precedes the Mosaic Covenant (law) Rom 4:1-25, 2 Peter 1:5, Rom 13:9

*Italicized words in table are implied by commandments.

The following steps describe how to interpret the previous chart:

- 1) The Ten Commandments were placed in the center column, [column 4].
- 2) It was determined if the commandment described something good [a virtue, column 5] or evil [a vice, column 3]. An "X" was placed in appropriate column.
- 3) a one word summary of the vice or virtue was placed in column 2 and column 6. Some of the virtues were italicized in column 6, because they are not explicitly stated in the commandments, but they are implied.
- 4) Finally, the appropriate chapters of Deuteronomy that describe the vice or virtue were added in columns 1 and 7.

Comments:

Note that the reference to the appropriate chapters are sequential. The reference atop column two, Mark 7:21-23, lists the same vices found in column two above: "For within, out of the heart of man proceed evil thoughts..., adulteries, ..., murders, thefts, covetousness, ...deceit,...blasphemy, pride, foolishness... All these evil things come from within and defile the man." Mark 7:21-23. Jesus groups these vices with the traditions of men in Mark 7:7. Column two shows the kingdom of darkness. Column six compares to the Beatitudes of Matthew 5:3-12. Column six shows the kingdom of light Matt 5:14-16. Jesus shows the relevancy of the Commandments by addressing them in the Sermon on the Mount Matt 5:17-6:35. "...I am not come to destroy (the law or prophets), but to fulfill. (Matt 5:17). The Commandment topics are shown in column one, rows seven through eleven. See table in the appendix.

A definition of each vice and virtue is defined below:

Humility:

Deuteronomy References

"I am the Lord your God which brought you out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage..." Deut. 5:6

"But thou shalt remember the Lord God: for it is He that giveth thee the power to get wealth..." Deut 8:18

The Creation Ordinances Teacher's Guide

General meaning: Lowliness of mind, equivalent to meekness, comes from realizing what God has done for us through his love.

Notes:

Worshipping God and remembering his hand in our lives is how we avoid pride. Worshipping God is essentially the first commandment. Remembering his hand in our lives is essentially the fourth commandment.

Biblical Examples: The Publican , Luke 18:9-14
David, Psalms 139,51,32
Moses, Numbers 11:24-30,12:3, Psalms 90
David vs. Goliath I Sam 17:37
The Lowest Room, Luke 14:8-11, Prov 27:2
Humble as a Child, Matt 18:1-7

Pride:

Deuteronomy References

“Do not make Graven images...., Do not take God’s name in vain...” Deut 5:8.

Deut. 8:11-17 shows how we transition to pride: “Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, ... Lest when thou has eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein... Then thine heart be lifted up and thou forget the Lord thy God.... And thou say in thine heart, my power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth...”

General Meaning: Haughtiness of mind, arrogance, to worship oneself, to be puffed up, comes from failure to recognize God’s hand in one’s life, to take credit for God’s work.

Notes:

Man either worships God, material objects, or himself. Worship of material objects is idolatry. Worship of one’s self is pride. Idolatry and Pride are synonymous.

Romans 1:21 shows how idolatry happens: “... when they knew God, they glorified him not as God...but became vain in their imaginations. And their foolish heart was darkened. Professing themselves to be wise (pride), they became fools. And changed the glory of God into the image like to corruptible man...(idolatry, pride)”

Ps 10:3 shows how the prideful oppose God: “ The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.” To eliminate God from our lives is to be secular. To include Him is to be sacred or consecrated.

The fool has said in his heart there is no God ( Ps 14:1). The fool and the prideful are synonymous.

Biblical Examples: The Pharisee, Luke 18:9-14 / Nebuchanezzar, Daniel 4:29-37
Saul , 1 Samuel 13, 1 Samuel 15
Man's Idols, Isaiah 44 / The Idol is like its maker , Psalms 135:15-18
The King That Dressed to Kill (himself), Acts 12:20-23
Massah of Deut 9:22 recalls Ex 17:7 when Israel tempted the Lord saying, is the Lord among us or not?
A full stomach that leads to pride Prov 30:8, 9, 22

Obedience:

Deuteronomy References

Honor thy father and mother, as the Lord thy God has commanded thee, that thy days may be prolonged , that it may go well with thee... Deut 5:16

“Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul... And ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house and when thou walkest by the way, when thou
